What is this product?

Type

The product represents Ordinary Shares of Partners Group Private Equity Limited ('Company'), which is an investment holding company domiciled in Guernsey that invests in private market investments. Investments include direct investments and also primary (newly created) and secondary (pre-existing) fund investments. The product manufacturer is Partners Group AG, Switzerland, the global private markets investment manager, in accordance with an investment management agreement. The Company's shares are traded on the London Stock Exchange.

The Company is an evergreen structure, i.e. it has no maturity date. The liquidation of the Company requires a decision taken by the shareholders (investors) of the Company and is subject to quorum and majority requirements as stipulated in the 'Liquidation' section in the Company's articles of incorporation. The product manufacturer is not entitled to terminate the Company unilaterally.

Objective

The Company's investment objective is to provide shareholders with long-term capital growth and an attractive dividend yield primarily through investment in a diversified portfolio of private market investments, predominantly private equity. To achieve this objective, the Company pursues a relative value investment strategy, the goal of which is to identify and invest in private markets investments that the product manufacturer believes are attractive at a given point in time based on its global scale, broad market overview, insight and deal flow. Investments may be accessed directly or indirectly through subsidiaries, pooled investment vehicles or other special purpose vehicles. Investments include direct investments in typically unlisted assets and operating companies and may include equity, debt, including mezzanine and senior debt facilities of private market investments backed by underlying investments, money market instruments, or other kinds of securities and fund investments. The Company aims to primarily invest in private equity direct investments, but on occasion may also make fund investments and may also invest in other private market investments, including for example private debt, private real estate or private infrastructure. The Company may enter into derivative transactions, for exposure to interest rate and currency fluctuations through the use of currency and interest rate hedging arrangements or for purposes of efficient portfolio management. The Company may also invest at its discretion in private investment funds acquired from other investors (secondary investments) or through a commitment to a new fund (primary investments), as well as in vehicles listed on a public stock exchange that invest in private investment transactions or funds. In assessing investments, the Company considers macro value drivers (industry trends, regional, economic conditions, etc.) and deal-specific factors (management quality, firm strategy, financial analysis, etc.) to determine the investments that it believes offer superior risk-adjusted return potential. The Company may invest in funds established in jurisdictions where no or limited supervision is exercised on such funds by regulators. Returns on each investment type, ultimately, depend upon the financial performance of the underlying investments made by the Company; if the underlying investments' performance is positive, so too will the Company's be. Conversely, if the underlying investments' performance is negative, so too will the Company's be. The company may borrow to purchase assets for shareholders. This could potentially magnify any gains or losses made by the Company. The Company intends to distribute a substantial portion of its realised income and gains as dividends. However, there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to pay dividends. Partners Group AG has substantial discretion when selecting, acquiring and disposing of investments, including determining the types of investments that it deems appropriate. In addition, Partners Group AG will be permitted to cause the Company to make, or to exclude it from making, investments (other than in Partners Group-sponsored vehicles) without obtaining the approval of the Company's board of directors. While the board of directors will periodically review Partners Group AG's compliance with the Company's strategy and investment policy, it is generally not expected to review or approve individual investment decisions. The Company is actively managed and doesn't invest by reference to a benchmark.

Intended retail investor

The Company is intended to be marketed to retail investors who are seeking exposure to private equity with liquidity. Retail investors should be seeking capital growth over a long-term investment horizon. Retail investors should have sufficient experience and theoretical knowledge of private equity. Retail investors should have a medium to high risk tolerance and should be able to bear the loss of their entire investment.

What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk Indicator

The summary risk indicator ("SRI") is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as 5 out of 7, which is a medium-high risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium-high level, and poor market conditions will likely impact the capacity of the Company to pay you.

Be aware of currency risk. In some circumstances, you may receive payments in a different currency, so the final return you will get may depend on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above.

As the Company is listed on the London Stock Exchange, the performance of your investment will also be impacted by the development of the market share price, which may differ from the Net Asset Value of the Company. The Company may be exposed to further risks such as operational, counterparty, political, and legal risks that are not included in the SRI.

The Company does not include any protection from future market performance and has no capital guarantee, so you could lose some or all of your investment.

Before investing in the Company, potential investors should also consider other general risk factors as outlined in the section "Risk factors" of the Prospectus.

Investment performance information

The Company's investment objective is to provide Shareholders with long-term capital growth and an attractive dividend yield by investing in a diversified portfolio of private equity and private debt investments which may be classified as private market investments. While the performance of private equity is to some extent correlated with public equity markets, the nature of private market investing provides structural advantages that make returns less reliant on market beta and more driven by bottom-up value creation at the company level. The Investment Manager combines a bottom-up transformational investing approach with top-down thematic sourcing to identify areas of above average growth that are likely to remain attractive in the long term; The Company's portfolio is designed to be positioned for long-term outperformance across different market environments, thanks to its focus on fundamental operational strength, resilience, and value creation opportunities in segments of the economy that benefit from long-term transformative trends. The return on your investment in the Company's is related to the value of the underlying assets of the Company, which represent the primary driver of long-term portfolio performance. Partners Group, the Company's Investment Manager, aims to combine investment selection and active portfolio management together with the implementation of strategic measures towards operational value creation within the portfolio companies in order to achieve the Company's investment objective. Operational value creation initiatives vary, but typically focus on achieving certain strategic objectives such as expansion through an organic or acquisition-based growth strategy, improving operational effectiveness through a number of focused operational projects or through capital management; such initiatives represent a core element of Partners Group's value creation strategy - and therefore a key driver of portfolio performance. The Company's performance may also be impacted by FX fluctuations, depending on the FX hedging policy implemented by the Investment Manager. Future performance of the Company's is also impacted by the fees, costs, and expenses, including those of the underlying investments, as well as by the risk factors outlined in the prospectus. Please refer to the "Risk factors" section of the Prospectus, for further details on the potential risk factors and the manner in which these may impact the future performance of the Company. Moreover, as the Company is listed on the London Stock Exchange, the performance of your investment will also be impacted by the development of the market share price, which may differ from the Net Asset Value of the Company. The market price of the Company's publicly traded shares may fluctuate due to a number of factors beyond the Company's control, including actual and anticipated fluctuations in the quarterly and annual results, market perceptions concerning the availability of additional shares for sale, general economic, social or political developments, changes in industry conditions, shortfalls in operating results from levels forecast by securities analysts, the general state of the securities markets and other material events, such as significant management changes, refinancings, acquisitions and dispositions.

The Company is not managed in relation to a benchmark or index, nor designed to track such any such benchmark or index.

What could affect my return positively?: The price of a Share in the Company is impacted by the Net Asset Value of the Company, which is in turn driven by the value of the underlying investments. As such, the Company is expected to generate higher returns in periods where the value of the the Company's investments develop favourably, driven by positive investment portfolio returns through the Investment Manager's investment selection, asset allocation and value creation processes, and may be further supported by general favourable economic, geopolitical, and market conditions. Moreover, as the Company is listed on the London Stock Exchange, the performance of your investment will also be impacted by the development of the market share price, which may differ from the Net Asset Value of the Company. The market price of the Company's publicly traded shares may be positively impacted by a number of factors outside of the Company's control.

What could affect my return negatively?: The price of a Share in the Company is impacted by the Net Asset Value of the Company, which is in turn driven by the value of the underlying investments. As such, the Company is expected to generate lower returns in periods where the value of the Company' underlying investments develop unfavourably; this could be attributed to the Investment Manager's investment selection, asset allocation and value creation processes, and may be further driven by general unfavourable economic, geopolitical, and market conditions. Moreover, as the Company is listed on the London Stock Exchange, the performance of your investment will also be impacted by the development of the market share price, which may differ from the Net Asset Value of the Company. The market price of the Company' publicly traded shares may be negatively impacted by a number of factors outside of the Company' control.

Retail investors should have a medium to high risk tolerance as the Company does not include any protection from future market performance. As such, under severely adverse market conditions investors may lose up to the entire amount invested.

What happens if Partners Group AG is unable to pay out?

The Company and the product manufacturer are segregated, so the default of the product manufacturer should not impact on the Company's ability to pay out. Shareholders of the Company are unlikely to have recourse to any compensation funds of last resort (such as the Financial Services Compensation Scheme in the UK, or the Guernsey Compensation scheme under the Collective Investment Schemes (Compensation of Investors) Rules 1988 (as amended)). In the event the Company is unable to pay out, shareholders will be able to exercise their usual rights. As investor in the Company, you are not protected by an investor compensation scheme.

What are the costs?

How long should I hold it and can I take money out early?

Recommended holding period: 5 years

The Company invests in private equity and private debt. The nature of private equity, which consists of taking ownership of a company to create value, requires a long-term investment horizon. The nature of private debt, which consists of providing capital to companies in the form of loans and in some cases, the participation in equity kickers (typically a warrant or option to buy equity in a borrower) which are attached to debt investments, requires a long-term investment horizon.

Shares of the Company can be bought and sold via the London Stock Exchange. Typically, at a given point in time, the price paid for a share may be higher than the price at which a share could be sold.
